SOCIETY

BUSY though Honolulu may be with the purely social side of life—its luncheons, theater parties, dinners, dances, card afternoons (and mornings very often)—the smart set nevertheless seems to be entering with unexampled vigor into outdoor sports this winter. Besides the usual oldtime amusements, with golf heading the list and tennis a close second, several have been added to the number of sports that claim the enthusiasm of the feminine side of society.

So much is this the case that many times its more commonplace interests are allotted to the background. Outdoor amusements formerly were regarded as diversions of the summer season. Not so today. Now the fact that the difference between summer and winter climate in this section of the globe is not sufficiently great to cause any change of plans, has been borne in on the popular mind until the summer entertainments of what sort soever are continued indefinitely—if one feels so inclined. Who today ever thinks of refusing a golf match just because "it's raining"? No one who has ever played here minds a bit of upper, or for that matter, under, moisture for, as we all know, it showers several times a day in upper Nuuanu, as it does in Manoa valley. Yet the rain never stops anyone who is truly a sportsman for sport's sake—that is, getting all the good out of whatever one goes into.

Honolulu is so vastly different from almost any other place on the globe, we are here a law almost unto our own, for one here rarely follows the conventions of other social centers. That is the gist of every stranger's comment on leaving the islands.

A glimpse of Hawaiian hospitality was seen Thursday when Princess David Kawanakoa graciously entertained every person of Hawaiian blood who wished to call and they came in hundreds to pay honor and homage to the mother of the young prince of the land. How the Hawaiians love Princess Kawanakoa! The great garden surrounding the home was dotted with groups of loving friends and well-wishers. A group of pa-riders was another evidence of the love of the out of doors in the people of this land, for they were not young girls who rode them for pleasure and dignity, but women, many of them long past the prime of life, who yet sit their mounts with ease and grace.

Speaking of the sporting penchant here, polo has got into the blood of the gentler sex and twice a week, if one has the courage to rise early enough, the young members of society may be seen struggling with that miserable little, white, elusive ball that seems to be any place but within reach. As one of the girls said, "Never again shall I sit on the bleachers and wonder why a bad play is made or a ball passed. It is not nearly as easy as it appears from the bleachers."

What a pity Honolulu has not an ice skating rink for here we have some expert skaters and it is not only great fun but excellent exercise.

SENATOR JAMES D. PHELAN HONORED

Senator James D. Phelan of California was the guest of honor at a polo supper given Wednesday evening by Governor Lucius E. Pinkham at the governor's residence, the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper. The lanai and dining room was used for the feast, one long table crossing almost the length of the lanai and another table the length of the dining hall, forming a "U." The tables were covered with ti leaves, the outer row being fringed and most effective. The tables were decorated with masses of flaming red ixoras and brilliant Transvaal daisies and ferns. On the back of each chair was a malle leaf for the guests, and each guest-cover was marked with a coat-of-arms card. It was an altogether delightful evening and one that the guest of honor will long recall as among the novel experiences of his visit here.

Governor Pinkham's guests were Senator James D. Phelan, the guest of honor; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Baron, Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Strong, Judge and Mrs. Horace W. Vaughan, Senator and Mrs. Ambrose Wirtz, United States Attorney and Mrs. S. C. Huber, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper, Senator and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Prof. and Mrs. William A. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Forbes, Senator and Mrs. James L. Coke, City Attorney and Mrs. Arthur M. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lewis, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Wilder, Attorney General and Mrs. I. M. Stainback, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Barrett of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Gould of Hollywood, Cal., Mr. J. Downey Harvey and Mr. Noel Sullivan.

LOS ANGELENOS ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Gould of Los Angeles entertained at dinner last night at the Country Club in honor of members of the Great Northern party who returned home on the steamer this morning. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Rivers, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mead, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Barrett of Los Angeles and Mr. J. D. Dele, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Riggs and Mrs. and Mrs. W. R. Farrington.

Mrs. Frank B. Cosgrove (Psyche Berry), whose marriage was an event of Wednesday night.

of Honolulu. The Goulds, Barretts and Meads are remaining for a tour of the islands, Mr. Barrett having brought his automobile on the Great Northern. The place cards of the dinner carried souvenirs of Hawaii for the California guests, and the Hawaiian singers rendering music during the dinner and for dancing gave the real Hawaiian atmosphere to a very pleasant farewell.

COSGROVE-BERRY WEDDING

In the presence of about 70 friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wall, on the corner of Lunaillo and Victoria streets, Miss Psyche Berry and Mr. Frank B. Cosgrove were married on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The wedding service was read by Rev. Patrick St. Ledger of the Catholic cathedral. The large drawing room was very beautifully decorated in snowy St. Joseph's lilies, ferns and palms. The bride couple stood under an arch of fine Japanese bamboo, which was artistically arranged in a bower, and as if growing were the lovely white lilies at the base. Masses of white lilies were banded with quantities of lacy maidenhair fern. The different parts of the room held brass urns filled with white chrysanthemums.

To the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March," played by Mrs. Fred C. Smith, the daintily attired little bride came in, leaning on the arm of Mr. Fred C. Smith, who gave her into the keeping of her future husband. Then followed Miss Claire Berry, who was her sister's maid of honor. The company stood during the ceremony.

The bride's gown was a very dainty one of tulle and silver lace of the fineness of a cobweb. Her slim figure was enveloped in a white tulle veil and about her head was worn a wreath of fragrant white gardenia buds. She carried a shower bouquet of white bride roses.

Miss Claire Berry was very dainty in a blue tulle, very modestly made. She carried a shower bouquet of pink rosebuds.

Dainty refreshments were served, the bride cutting her cake, and then the two quietly slipped away to Kahala to the Fred C. Smith home, where their honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will reside at 1119 Lunaillo street. Mr. Cosgrove is connected with the firm of Theo. H. Davies & Co.

Mrs. Wall was assisted in looking after the guests by Miss Frances Morrison, Miss Church and Miss Elizabeth Wall.

MR. AND MRS. ALEXANDER G. HAWES' DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander G. Hawes entertained on Wednesday of this week, honoring Miss Florence Butler and Mrs. Lionel Wallden. The host and hostess and their guests after ward enjoyed The Footlights Club play at Punahou.

SPICER-KNOX MARRIAGE

The marriage of Mr. H. E. Spicer of Honolulu to Miss Eleanor Holmes Knox of San Francisco took place in this city Tuesday, November 13, and marked a continued story in a childhood friendship that culminated in Honolulu. Miss Knox arrived on the last Matsutani from her home in San Francisco. Mr. Spicer is the manager of J. Hopp & Co., and is being congratulated by his wide circle of friends in the business community. Mr. and Mrs. Spicer will make their home at the Alexander Young Hotel.

THREE BRIDES-TO-BE HONORED

Three of this season's coming brides were the guests of Miss Jessie Kennedy and Miss Mary Lucas on Friday of this week, when they entertained at luncheon, honoring Mrs. Norma Adams, Miss Myrtle Schuman and Miss Hazel Buckland. The guests were seated at small tables that were decorated with dainty white lilies and ferns. In one corner of the room was a bank of maidenhair fern, white lilies and tall lighted tapers signifying the coming nuptials of the three brides-elect. Dainty bridal bouquets of white sweet peas and tulle were given to the honored guests. The girls found their names by matching ribbons given them with others on the tables. It was found each ribbon matched a dainty sachet, which were afterwards given the honor guests. Miss Kennedy's and Miss Lucas' guests were Mrs. Norma Adams, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Miss Hazel Buckland, the guests of honor; Miss McCue, Mrs. William B. Lymer, Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Margaret Hind, Miss Edith Kynnersley, Miss Vivian Buckland, Mrs. Joseph E. Austin, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Mrs. Bruce Cartwright, Jr., Miss Letitia Morgan, Mrs. Ralph Clark, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Merle Hana, Mrs. Reynold Bode McGrew and Mrs. Howard Bode.

A WEDDING OF NEXT WEEK

On Tuesday evening of next week at St. Andrew's cathedral will occur the wedding of Miss Hazel Buckland of Honolulu and Walter Lee Reesman, U. S. A., Fort Kanebameha.

Miss Buckland will be attended by her sister, Miss Vivian Buckland, as maid of honor, and as bridal attendants two of her childhood and school friends will act. Miss Myrtle Schuman and Miss Ruth McCue will be the bridal attendants. Capt. Samuel Tilghman will be Dr. Reesman's best man, while Lieut. Charles Lyman and Lieut. Wallace Philson will usher the guests to their seats.

ARMITAGE-RIPLEY NUPTIAL

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Nuanu home of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Robinson, on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, when Miss Gertrude Ripley and Mr. Arthur Armitage were married. Rev. L. L. Loof-bourne of the Methodist church officiating.

The ceremony took place in the large fern adorned drawing room. Piano music was furnished by Jan Cherniavsky, the noted Russian artist.

The bride was attired in a white crepe de chine suit with a vogue hat of satin folds. She carried a bouquet of white violets and orchids. The groom's present was a diamond and platinum pendant.

Mrs. C. B. Ripley, the bride's mother, wore a gown of heavy white silk.

After the ceremony the wedding party motored to the Matsutani to bid the happy couple bon voyage, and incidentally make them known to their fellow passengers by showering them with rice and orange blossoms.

Mrs. Armitage was a farewell threw her bouquet to the guests on the wharf. Miss Ruth Stacker caught it. Mr. and Mrs. Armitage will reside at the Hotel Shattuck in Berkeley, returning early in January to their home on Liholilo street.

Mr. Armitage is with the shipping department of Castle & Cooke, and his bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Ripley.

DR. AND MRS. HARVEY MURRAY'S DINNER

Princess David Kawanakoa was the guest of honor of Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Murray when they entertained at dinner at the University Club, in the palm garden. Hanging from a high beam was a huge basket of trailing asparagus vine, which hung almost to the table cover. Beneath this and rising to meet the asparagus vine was a low silver bowl filled with dozens of glorious red ixoras, and about the huge square table, at which sat 32 guests, quantities of flaming ixoras and Transvaal daisies were used. From the top of the asparagus basket, in clouds of rainbow coloring, came illusion in pink, sapphire, sky blue, yellow, brown, green, red and lavender. It covered the table like a rosy mist. Resting in some mysterious way, ixoras seemed to climb and grow in the trailing asparagus. About a dozen lighted tapers with pink shades cast a soft and effective glow over all. The name cards were pink and gold and bore the monogram of the host and hostess.

Those at the table besides Dr. and Mrs. Murray were Princess David Kawanakoa, the guest of honor; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Maj. and Mrs. Alexander G. Purdy, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander G. Hawes, Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Dr. and Mrs. Clifford B. High, Dr. and Mrs. Pugsly, the Portuguese Consul and Mrs. Angelo Pessoa, Judge and Mrs. Edward M. Watson, Mrs. Robert W. Shingle, Miss Mary Low, Mrs. Irene Dickinson, Maj. Herbert Williams, Lieut. Charles Lyman, Dr. Norman Smith, Mr. Cornell Franklin, Mr. Abrahamson of San Francisco and Mrs. Carruthers of San Francisco.

MRS. REYNOLD BRODIE MCGREW'S LUNCHEON

The Country Club quarters brought together a very pretty luncheon party on Tuesday of this week when Mrs. Reynold Brodie McGrew entertained, honoring Mrs. W. E. Chamberlin and Mrs. Charles Miller of Burlingame and San Rafael, Mexican creper was used with delightful results, and tulle in three shades of pink was most effective. Mrs. McGrew's guests were Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper, Mrs. James D. Dougherty, Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Mrs. C. Arthur Mackintosh, Mrs. Harold Giffard, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Miss Jessie Kennedy and the guests of honor, Mrs. Chamberlin and Mrs. Miller.

MRS. ELIZABETH KNIGHT HONORED

At her charming Peninsula home Mrs. J. F. C. Hagens entertained on Tuesday, honoring Mrs. Elizabeth Knight, who is here on a visit and is receiving such a lot of attention from her friends. A pot luncheon was the affair arranged for the guests. The table was very pretty with a basket of fragrant pinks. Mrs. Hagens' guests were Mrs. Elizabeth Knight, the guest of honor; Mrs. Frank Armstrong, Mrs. William Williams, Mrs. Clifford B. High, Mrs. Emmet May, Mrs. Frank E. Thompson, Mrs. Armin Haneberg, Mrs. Frank E. Richardson, Miss Kealoha Kekele and Mrs. Bertram von Damm.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM WILLIAMSON'S DINNER

At their pretty home in Punui Mr. and Mrs. William Williamson celebrated their sixth wedding anniversary on Thursday of this week. As decorations a crystal basket was filled with white shaggy chrysanthemums and long trailers of asparagus vine. After dinner all motored to the University Club and enjoyed the dance there. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson's guests were Dr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Hodgins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Richardson, Mrs. J. F. C. Hagens, Miss Kealoha Kekele, Mr. Guy Buttolph and Mr. Frank Moss.

MRS. ALEXANDER ISENBERG'S DINNER

At the Pleasanton Hotel on Tuesday evening Mrs. Alexander Isenberg was hostess at a dinner, honoring Mrs. L'Orange of Norway, who is on her way to Kauai to visit her daughter, Mrs. Eric Knudsen. The table was very pretty, a rambling mass of brilliant Transvaal daisies graced the center, while maidenhair fern was arranged on the snowy linen. Lighted tapers with pierced silver shades, with dainty red silk showing through, were most effective. Mrs. Isenberg's guests later enjoyed the exhibition of Hawaiian dancing that the Pleasanton provides for its guests, and also the dance on the lanai. The friends enjoying Mrs. Isenberg's hospitality were Mrs. L'Orange, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dunsen, Mrs. Downey Harvey, Mrs. Noel Sullivan, Mr. L'Orange, Mr. Walter Dunsen and Mrs. A. L'Orange.

Mrs. Arthur Hauteville Armitage (Gertrude K. Ripley) who was married on Wednesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Armitage have gone to the mainland for a honeymoon trip.

MR. AND MRS. CHRIS MILLER'S DINNER

The Rathskeller was the setting for a dinner given on Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Chris Miller of San Rafael, Cal., who have been on a visit here. As decorations a bronze basket was filled with old-fashioned blue cornflowers and long fronds of lace fern. The name-cards were hand-painted, showing dainty bits of island scenery. The dinner was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Chamberlin of Burlingame, who left the next day for San Francisco.

Those enjoying Mr. and Mrs. Miller's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlin, the guests of honor; Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Brodie McGrew, Mr. Dickson Nott, Mr. Stanley Kennedy and Mr. Francis Brown.

CAPT. SAMUEL TILGHMAN HONORED

Miss Hazel Buckland and Dr. Walter Reesman were the guests of honor last evening of Capt. Samuel Tilghman when he entertained in their honor at the Rathskeller. The table was dainty with a basket of bride roses gracing the center. The dance on the roof garden afforded diversion for the guests for the evening. Capt. Tilghman's guests were Miss Hazel Buckland and Dr. Walter Reesman, the guests of honor; Miss Ruth McCue, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Miss Vivian Buckland, Lieut. Wallace Philson, Lieut. Charles Lyman and Mr. Merwin Carson.

THE CHERNIAVSKYS HONORED

The three very talented musicians, Jan, Mischel and Leo Cherniavsky, were the honor-guests at an informal supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Buchly at their Waikiki home on Thursday evening. These talented artists are renewing the friendships formed when they were here previously. Mr. and Mrs. Buchly's guests were Mr. Leo Cherniavsky, Mr. Jan Cherniavsky, Mr. Mischel Cherniavsky, the guests of honor; Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Patterson, Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse, Miss Florence Butler, Mr. Lionel Wallden, Mr. Carl Carlsmith of Hilo and Mr. George Scully.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE SHERMAN'S THEATER PARTY

Their guests were Col. and Mrs. James B. Houston, Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Adams, Maj. and Mrs. Edward Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dowsett, Miss Mary von Holt and Mr. Knowelburg.

LIEUT. AND MRS. FRANK SLOAN'S DINNER

Last evening Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Sloan of Fort Shafter entertained a company of guests at dinner and at the hop at the post hall later in the evening.

The table was lovely with a rock crystal rose bowl holding long-stemmed American Beauty roses, with long trailers of lace fern. Dainty name cards marked each guest cover.

Lieut. and Mrs. Sloan's guests were Cmdr. and Mrs. Victor Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer and Mr. Bennett.

CHERNIAVSKYS CLOSE LOCAL SEASON

The three Cherniavskys, Leo, Jan and Mischel, closed their concert season last night with a performance which again filled the Opera House. Society patronized the concert generously and was lavish with its applause.

The matinee yesterday and the evening performance ended the local appearances of the three famous brothers, who now go to San Francisco on their way to New York. They will return next year on their way to Australia and will probably give concerts either going or coming.

At last night's performance the height of artistic power was reached in the Peer Gynt Suite, with the violin, cello and piano—bringing out the Greig music in all its delicate fantasy. Mischel's Popper numbers were very meritorious. All of the solo offerings, in fact, maintained the high standard of workmanship which the brothers have set for themselves.

A COMING LUNCHEON AT LANIAKAA

On Saturday, November 25, the women who are heading the League for Good Films will give a luncheon at Laniakaa tea rooms. It will be in the nature of a "get together" luncheon and open to all for free discussion. Every woman who is a member and wishes to attend the luncheon is asked to notify Mrs. F. J. Lindeman, the president, that seating arrangements may be made. This league has awakened a great deal of enthusiasm and interest in procuring "movies" that will be not only a pleasure but also instructive to the growing young minds in the city.

MRS. FRANK ARMSTRONG A BRIDGE HOSTESS

Mrs. Frank Armstrong entertained a company of friends at an informal bridge party on Friday. After several exciting rubbers of bridge tea was served. Those invited to spend the afternoon with Mrs. Armstrong were Mrs. Frank E. Richardson, Mrs. John M. Dowsett, Mrs. Armin Haneberg, Mrs. J. F. C. Hagens, Mrs. William Williamson, Mrs. Clifford B. High, Mrs. Samuel A. Walker, Mrs. Grafton Beall and Mrs. Charles T. Wilder.
